Forecast For London & Southeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Wednesday 30 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Mostly dry with clear or sunny spells.

This Evening and Tonight:
Some evening sunshine, especially in western parts. Remaining dry overnight with some clear spells allowing some mist or isolated fog patches to briefly form in the early hours. Minimum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Thursday:
Perhaps cloudy near the coast, with some fog and drizzle possible. Dry inland with bright or sunny spells. Risk of an isolated afternoon shower over Hampshire. Maximum temperature 24 deg C (75 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Often fresher and cloudier towards the coast through this period. Occasional light showers on Friday with sunny spells. More cloud on Saturday and Sunday with heavy showers, thundery at times.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.